Europemobility Network Fact Sheet

The International Community of Mobility Coordinators is an interactive group of people responsible for transnational learning mobility. The aim is to stimulate the raise of quality and quantity by promoting interaction and cooperation among those who are responsible for mobility open to VET, HE and informal and non formal education actors.

A high-speed train, likely a Shinkansen, is shown from a low angle, emphasizing its sleek, aerodynamic design. The train is white with a prominent red stripe running along its side. It is moving along a track that recedes into the distance. The background is a clear blue sky with scattered white clouds.
